An original work of art created by the children of the Frankie Lemmon School especially for this year's TWE as a Diptych. Acrylic paint pouring is a process by which several different acrylic colors and other art mediums are mixed, layered, and poured and are gently rotated on an art board so that the paints spread over the entire work of art. Different techniques are used to achieve various looks. No two pieces are exactly alike. The Frankie Lemmon School children helped mix, layer, pour and rotate the art boards to create these finished pieces.

PIEDMONT SAMPLER

VinConnect works closely with many leading European wineries to create and manage mailing lists and club programs that enable U.S. customers like you to buy wine directly from them (through VinConnect). Each winery has its own mailing list and selects wines to offer via email to you 1-3 times per year. Following your order, your wine is then transferred to the U.S., forwarded along to a warehouse, and shipped on to you. It's free to join and you have no obligation to order nor any minimum purchase requirement.

263 TUSCANY SAMPLER

VinConnect works closely with many leading European wineries to create and manage mailing lists and club programs that enable U.S. customers like you to buy wine directly from them (through VinConnect). Each winery has its own mailing list, and selects wines to offer via email to you 1-3 times per year. Following your order, your wine is then transferred to the U.S., forwarded along to a warehouse, and shipped on to you. It's free to join and you have no obligation to order nor any minimum purchase requirement.
